

Dear Author,

as you already learned from the Editors of the book, Springer will publish the above-mentioned work within the INdAM Series: <https://www.springer.com/series/10283>

The language of publication will be English.

In order to ensure a timely publication of the book, we would kindly ask you to submit your contribution by sending the TeX files + figure files + style files + pdf file to michele.benzi@sns.it by 01/15/2026. Please note that the volume will not be produced by camera-ready offset procedure, but by conventional typesetting. It is therefore of the outmost importance that you keep to this deadline.

Each contribution should be about 20-30 pages, including tables, illustrations and references. In exceptional cases, longer contributions will be considered.

You are kindly invited to prepare your paper following the Springer macros that you will find connecting to springer.com:

<https://www.springer.com/gp/authors-editors/book-authors-editors/your-publication-journey/manuscript-preparation> There you will download the template concerning Word or LaTeX template for book manuscripts/contributed books, proceedings and similar. This service is obviously free.

We would like to point out the most relevant points that you are kindly invited to consider:

- Literature citations should be ordered alphabetically at the end of each chapter (References); for citation in the text please indicate the number in square brackets. You will find different examples for a correct citation in the Springer macros, and we kindly ask you to follow this instruction.
- Color figures will appear in color in the eBook, but may be printed in black and white if not strictly necessary from a scientific perspective. In that case, do not refer to color in the captions and make sure that the main information will still be visible if converted to black and white.
- Figures and Tables must be reproduced in high resolution, and you must obtain the permission from the owner as described here: <https://www.springer.com/gp/authors-editors/book-authors-editors/your-publication-journey/manuscript-preparation>

Upon receipt of the manuscripts, ready for typesetting, Springer will perform style editing. For any questions arising from this procedure we will turn to the single Authors for clarification.

The Authors will be sent a set of proofs for correction/approval.

Should you have any problems or questions concerning the manuscript preparation, please do not hesitate to contact masayuki.nakamura@springer.com; for all content matters please turn directly to the Editors of the book.

Best regards,

Michele Benzi
